"Traditions in Transitions"
2005 Edition

"Recognized in the Xaverian Charism are certain values that distinguish the spirituality of the Xaverian Brothers and are rooted deeply in the Brothers' history and traditions...

These values are:

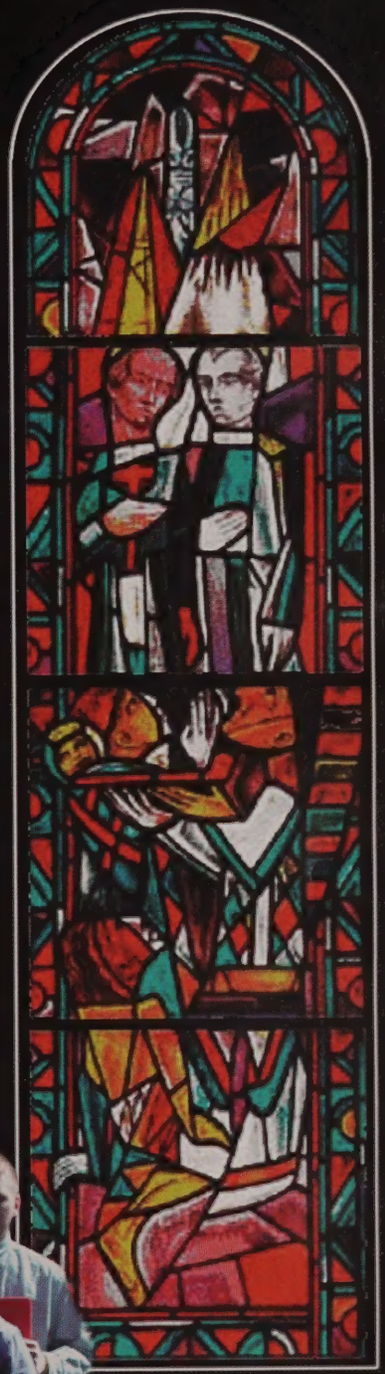
- Humility
- Trust
- Zeal
- Compassion
- Simplicity."†

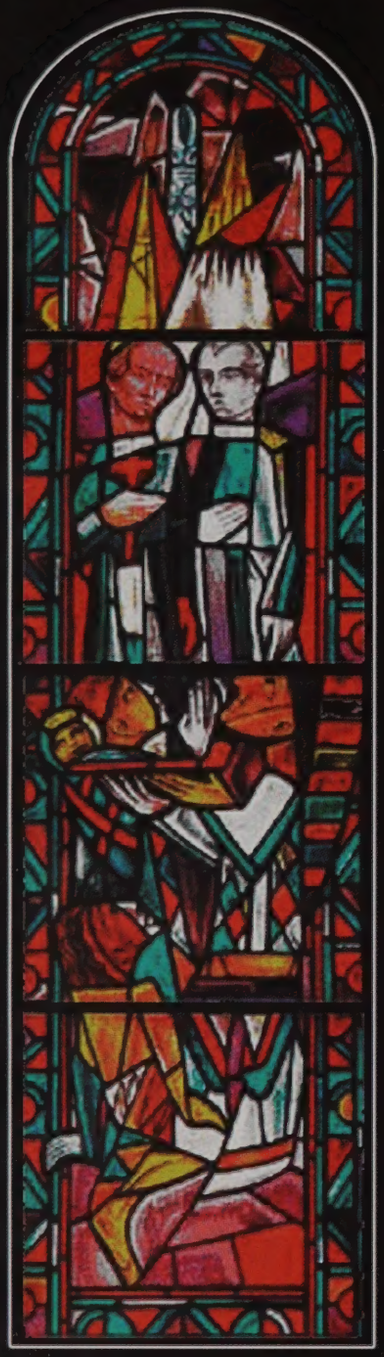
Humility

"Theodore James Ryken encouraged his Brothers to have the humble attitude of Christ. The Xaverian Brothers are formed in the belief that each person is unique, gifted and loved by God; yet, sinful, incomplete and ordinary, sharing all things that are important with the rest of humanity.

Humility allows all members of the Xaverian Sponsored School community to accept and affirm their giftedness as well as to acknowledge the giftedness of others. Likewise, humility enables one to accept personal limitations in oneself and others. Humility inspires a sense of connectedness, not only within the community, but beyond. Humility is not a passive attitude, but an attitude leading to action. and that action is service.

Humility promotes harmonious relationships allowing members of the school community to affirm each other, to learn from each other and to work together. Humility is a powerful source of unity and is needed if the Xaverian Brothers Sponsored School is to promote truly inclusive and collaborative relationships."





Trust

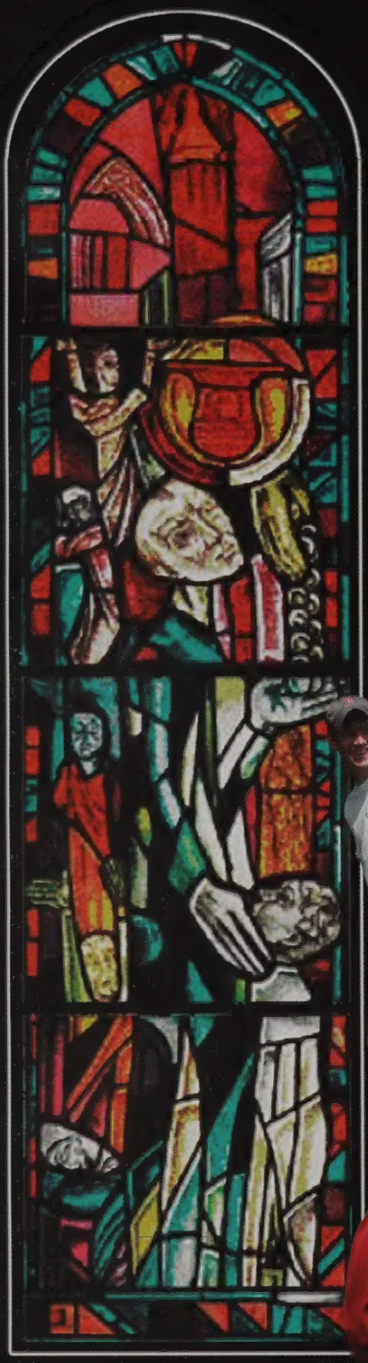
"Trust is the meeting place of mind and heart, faith and courage. Trust in God forged the Xaverian charism as the Brothers learned to respond in faith and courage to the enormous difficulties encountered in establishing their first schools. This trust is characteristic of the Xaverian charism: "Omnia cum Deo, nihil sine Deo." (All with God, nothing without God.)

It is the Spirit of the Lord who encourages, enlightens and inspires all believers especially those engaged in the demanding mission of evangelization and the ministry of educating and forming young people. A Xaverian Brothers Sponsored School is urged to provide the contemplative time and space needed for members of the school community to fix their gaze on the transcendent in order to grow in faith in spite of life's difficulties."

Zeal

"The word zeal is traditionally used among the Xaverian Brothers to mean the single-minded devotion to, the ardent enthusiasm for and the intense drive to fulfill the Church's ministry of education. The Founder's zeal for the Church's work of evangelization formed the spirit and charism that the Xaverian Brothers have transmitted to their Sponsored Schools. Furthermore, the renowned zeal for evangelization of St. Francis Xavier led Theodore James Ryken to the select this saint as the patron of the Congregation.

Single-minded devotion to the mission of the Xaverian Sponsorship unifies and strengthens the Xaverian educational ministry. Ardent enthusiasm for the Christian formation of young people increases a person's desire for personal growth and learning. Intense passion for the more abundant life proclaimed by Jesus Christ inspires and forms the Christian community."



Compassion

"Compassion, as exemplified in the Gospel of Jesus Christ, calls for the openness necessary to let oneself be touched by another's life and the courage to reach out in loving service to others. Compassion is the eyes, the ears and hands of Christian charity. It is the heart seeking action. Compassion impels those in a Xaverian Brothers Sponsored School to look at life with the eyes of Christ, to suffer with those who suffer, to accompany them and to seek appropriate action to eliminate the sources of suffering. Compassion leads one to a lifestyle rooted in mercy and forgiveness."

Simplicity

"Simplicity is another aspect of the Xaverian charism and is rooted in humility, trust of God, zeal for the Church's ministry of education and compassion. Simplicity frees the heart, the mind and the soul for the work of evangelization and education.

The Xaverian Sponsored School community makes simplicity a way of thinking, feeling and acting in order to offset the modern tendencies of materialism and consumerism, which can minimize the spiritual values of God?s kingdom. A Sponsored School community applies the value of simplicity in all decisions related to the life and mission of the school so that inclusivity of all persons and outreach to the poor and marginalized is upheld.

Programs and activities of the Xaverian Sponsored School educate and form students in Gospel simplicity and responsibility for their neighbor."

OUR

Mr. Peter Hook

In honor of Mr. Peter Hook's retiring from Saint John's High School after twenty nine years of service, the yearbook staff dedicates this book to him. Biology and Environmental Science, including Advanced Placement courses in both, were Mr. Hook's specialties. He infused his classes with knowledge and a love of the earth and all its creatures. His students know him as a wealth of information, a strong role model, and a patient and caring mentor. His colleagues recognize him as a consummate gentleman whose kindness knows no bounds. Mr. Hook will now direct his energies to the Hook family farm that he has cherished his whole life. Mr. Hook and his wife are the proud parents of two Saint John's graduates, Daniel, '98 and David, '02.

YEARBOOK

The theme for the 2005 yearbook is "Traditions in Transition". The editors of this year's book were Joe Shortsleeve '05 and Matthew Danna '06. There were several important members of the yearbook staff who spent countless hours working in Adobe InDesign CS and Adobe Photoshop. This award winning yearbook staff includes: Joe Shortsleeve '05, Matt Danna '06, Brian Beahn '05, Jon Blanton '06, Samm Haddad '06, Joe Farese '05, Andrew King '05, Sam Dumas '07, Mike Riel '06, Mike Gardner '06, Michael Daw '07, James Maloney '07, Mark Sartori '07, Dan Mangan '07, Brendan Fox '07, Dave Alfego '07, J.J. Dowd '07, Andrew Neilan '08 and Matt Brennan '08. They were led by moderator Ms. Sarah Pennington who was assisted by Mr. Patrick Gillis, Ms. Karen Shortsleeve. Mr. Laborde was the inhouse yearbook photographer. Yearbook, perhaps the most involved and persevering club, met every Tuesday during the beginning of the year and from late April to the end of the school year, met every day. The members gathered information and pictures about all important academic, athletic, social, and spiritual events that took place throughout the school year and brought them together into the pages of "Traditions in Transition".

Model UN

Mr. Abdella, Mr. Marsan, and Mr. Williams took twenty nine chosen members of the Model UN to go on a five-day trip to the Palmer House Hilton to attend the annual Model United Nations Conference at the University of Chicago with over 2,000 students from schools across the continent. These students were divided up into nineteen committees, each of which discussed different world issues from the policy of their respective countries. St. John's, which has attended all seventeen MUNUC conferences, maintained its tradition of excellence by acting as delegates from the People's Republic of China.

The delegates, representing all four grades, were able to gain the skills required to undertake such a conference in several ways. The training and practice that students gain on weekly meetings equips them with knowledge of parliamentary procedure and public speaking experience; students also got deeper into China's foreign policy by doing pages of research on topics varying from the situation in Nepal to international money laundering. Also, for the first time ever, eleven students were able to visit with and ask questions of Mr. Jin, the Chinese consul at the embassy in Chicago. He was very informative and explained the complicated and interesting reasons behind China's actions within the United Nations.

Three of the delegations won special awards granted by their committee chairs, and these were: head delegate Rob Prior and Neil Mihalich in the Historical Security Council, Matt Bannon in the International Court of Justice, and head delegate Russell Johnson and Dan Freije in the Economic and Social Council. Even though this was the last national conference St. John's attended this school year, the students are all looking forward to further conference participation next year and more education in the real world of international politics.

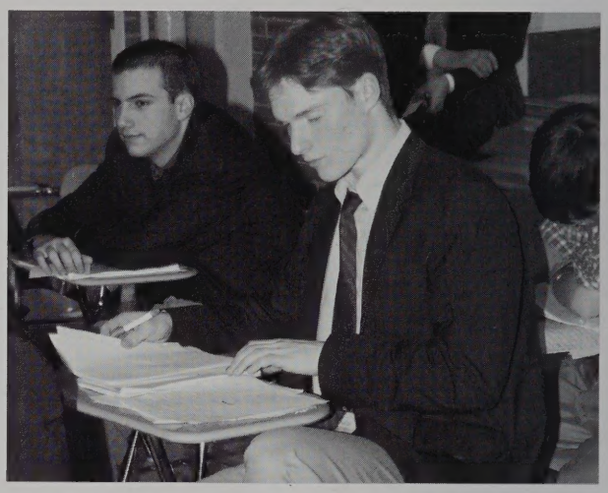
Mock Trial

This year the St. John's Mock Trial Team is in the sixth year of existence. With the guidance and help of moderator Mrs. Carol Fredette, the team grew in their understanding of law and of courtroom proceedure. The students gained valuable insight into trial proceedings and polished their oral presentation skills.



Academic Decathalon

Academic Decathlon, despite its seemingly oxymoronic name, is one of the most fulfilling and rewarding experiences that Saint John's offers to its students. The knowledge gained by participating in the program helps students not only in their day-to-day classroom activities but also in their future lives. The Saint John's Academic Decathlon team practices every Monday and Thursday throughout the school year. As a result of this commitment, Saint John's consistently beats out dozens of other high schools to come in the top ten at the regional and state competitions held in November and March, respectively.

Academic Decathlon tests the knowledge and expertise of high school students in ten areas: Economics, Art History, Social Science, Science, Language & Literature, Music, Mathematics, Essay, Speech, and Interview. To prepare for this, each Decathlete lugs a thick black binder filled with hundreds of pages of information to each bi-weekly practice session. For the music and literature sections of the exam, students listen to music and read literature from the time period chosen by the test-makers as the theme of the year's competition (this year, for example, students will focus on the music and literature of the Renaissance).

However, at Saint John's, a Decathlete's greatest asset is not his music CD or his black binder, but his mind. Academic Decathlon calls on students to showcase their intellectual prowess by being able to read and analyze large amounts of information and apply it to unfamiliar questions. Furthermore, the Essay, Speech, and Interview categories force students to move beyond bookish knowledge and to use their own personal experiences and insights to answer prompts. The mental acumen needed to succeed at Academic Decathlon does not come easily to students, not even to the binder-toting Decathletes. However, because of a strong work ethic and a motivation to excel, the Saint John's Academic Decathlon team succeeds every year.

Greek and Roman Seminar

Jonathan Eddy, Shobhit Singla, Dan Donahue, Bryan Lajoie, Peter Donnelly, Matthew Keeley, Mr. Abdella, Andrew Fiorillo

Mr. Abdella's Greek and Roman Seminar helps to prepare some of St. John's best and brightest for the future by looking at the past. Each week, this in depth seminar is attended by a dozen seniors as they make use of this after school course to prepare for the college experience. This rigorous, yet rewarding course is not graded and does not carry academic credit. Students must call upon their love of learning in an attempt to make sense of the classical world. Each week the students are asked to read close to fifty pages, write a paper, and return to seminar for discussion. From the silly stories of Herodotus to the serious words of Thucydides through the tabloid writer Suetonius and hopeless cheerleader Eusebius, these twelve dedicated scholars-in-training discuss politics, poetry, religion, leisure time, philosophy and more. It is a great teaser for upper level college electives and a wonderful way to cap off their Saint John's career.

Philosophy Club

Philosophy club is devoted to the unique experience of wonder and the passionate pursuit of wisdom that can arise when wonder flowers into a love of wisdom. The club seeks to encourage in students a love of wisdom that transcends the acquisition of knowledge for merely instrumental purposes. For this reason, this year was devoted both to an examination of the tools of rigorous thinking (logic) and to the concrete application of those tools in the unique conversational format named after Socrates—the Socratic method. The club is moderated by Mr. Michael Hughes and Mr. Graham Dennis.

MATH TEAM

SJ Math Team Clinches New England Championship

2005 marks a historic year for the Math Team at Saint John's. Members of the Varsity and Freshman Math Teams attained several memorable accomplishments this year. Most notably, Saint John's held its first ever Middle School Math Invitational for 7th and 8th graders. Over one hundred students from middle schools from all over the county came and competed in arithmetic, algebra, and geometry rounds. The meet questions were created and corrected by members of the Varsity Math Team.

The Freshman Math Team, led by Nick Pellegrino and David Chester, did well in the Worcester County Freshman Mathematics League. The Varsity Math Team placed third in the Worcester County Mathematics League and proceeded to take third place in the medium-school division at the Massachusetts State Math Meet. From here, the Math Team clinched first place in the medium-school division at the New England Math Meet—an honor that has only been achieved twice in Saint John's history. Members of the team included Rahul Banerjee, Anand Desai, Paavan Mehta, Stelios Melachrinoudis, Rob Prior, Kinnell Shah, and Stephen Wu. Several of these students also qualified for the American Invitational Mathematics Examination, a difficult three-hour test meant only for the finest math minds in the country. Additionally, Rahul Banerjee was able to qualify for the United States of America Mathematics Olympiad, a rigorous exam given to the 250 best high-school math students in the nation. Led by Rahul Banerjee, the Varsity Math Team also performed well in the Mandelbrot Mathematics Competition and the New England Mathematics League.

Although Rob Prior and Stephen Wu are both seniors, many of the math team members are juniors and will be back next year to lead St. John's to even greater heights. Congratulations to all members of the SJ Math Team!

Science Club

This year, the science club, under the leadership of Steven Danley, and Mr. William James as moderator, took part in the annual T.A.R.C, Team America Rocketry Challenge. Our mission was to design, build and successfully launch a rocket, in which two raw hen eggs were encased. While that seems easy enough, the challenge was to successfully launch this rocket, have it stay aloft for no more or less than 60 seconds, and return its fragile cargo back to the ground intact. Members of the Science Club of 2004-2005 include Michael Sangenario '06, Chris Lyon '07, John Bond '06, Eric Wu '07, John Donahue '07, Brendan Palladino '07, Paavan Mehta '06, and Anand Desai '08. While the team was unable to qualify this year, they look forward to next year and the new challenge which they will face.

Sailing Club

Sailing club members include Bryan Quinlan, Joel and Eric Martineau, Noah Desrosiers, Nolan Flynn, Sean and Chris Daly. Moderated by Mr. William James.

Computer Club

The Saint John's Computer Club, often self named the "Geek Club," had a very active year once again. Being moderated by Mr. Greg Blondin and Mr. Brian Mulcahy, the Club participated in the A.C.S.L. (American Computer Science League) and a programming contest, while still having various "network infrastructure operations"-commonly called LAN-parties.

For A.C.S.L., the Computer Club took part in four quarterly mathematical and analytical tests and four quarterly computer programming tests. These tests are particularly difficult because they are based on curriculum that is not taught at Saint John's. Even though Saint John's did not place in the A.C.S.L. contest, the club raised the bar for themselves.

On March 8th, 2005, four members of the Computer Club represented Saint John's at the Providence College Computer Programming Contest. Captain Jon Blanton, Matthew Danna, Nick Kantany, and Justin Michela all did an excellent job in the contest. For that superstar programming team collectively just having five years of programming experience under their belts, they cleaned house. The team placed 7th out of 24 teams, which was a Saint John's first. Never before had Saint John's placed in the Providence College contest.

The Computer Club has consistently poised itself as a talented group of young programmers. With dedicated members, the club is ready and willing to take on any computer science related contest.

Members gather before their weekly meetings.

Aviation Club

The Aviation Club closed the 2004-2005 school year with a three day trip to Washington, D.C. Students visited the National Air and Space Museum site on the National Mall and the new Steven F. Udvar-Hazy Center at Dulles International Airport. Students flew into Dulles International, making the trip an aviation festival in all senses. Students Pat Border, Peter Helali, Derek Lo, Mike Mahoney and Mike Urbanowski made the D.C. trip.

Cylcing Club

On Sunday, June 12, junior Matt Barston and faculty member Mr. Michael Novick of the Saint John's Cycling Club closed out the school year with a ride at the Tour de Cure Diabetes Ride at Gloucester, MA. The club rides twice weekly from the St. John's campus. Club members hope to form a nucleus of a racing team for the upcoming school year. Meanwhile, club members plan to ride throughout the summer months.

Investment Club

The Investment Club, commonly called the "Future Millionaires Club" by members, meets weekly in the computer lab, with Mr. Joseph Lane as the moderator, to research possible investments. Through the use of online resources such as Yahoo, MSN Money, and Smart Money, a portfolio of valuable stock is selected. Each investor is allowed to spread $50,000 among three to five equities. As the school year comes to a close, winners are determined by the size of their portfolio. The grand prize for the top investor is $100 cash. The top investor from each class receives $25. All members of the club obtain valuable experience in an environment that simulates real life investment situations. The experience and knowledge gained in the Investment Club enhance the likelihood of success with the stock market later in life.

DEBATE

The Saint John's Policy Debate Team continued its winning tradition with another successful season in both Novice and Varsity divisions. Captain Neel Vora taught students the fundamentals of policy debate throughout the year, and helped to coordinate meetings, workshops, and tournaments with the help of fellow varsity members. The team attended several tournaments and did very well. In the Novice division, David Bowman and Daniel Frieje received numerous speaker awards during the season and qualified for the State Championship Tournament. David also attended one tournament alone ("maverick"), an arduous task in team debate, and did admirably. In the Varsity division, Neel Vora and Zachary Dyer received first place at the Lexington Fall Classic tournament and also received 2nd and 4th speaker awards. Regular partners Neel Vora/ Michael Lefemine and Zachary Dyer/Anthony Mariano posted excellent records throughout the season. In addition, Neel, Michael, Aqeel Siddiqui, Andre Savastano, and Tom Busby served as judges at various tournaments.

The team was privileged to have as moderators Mr. Russell McClintock and Mr. Evan Adair, who helped organize and attended tournament participation. Novice team members included David Bowman '06, Daniel Frieje '07, Benjamin Corkery '08, Rahul Modi '08, Corey Stevens '08, Jeff Gianattasio '08, Alex Thomson '08, Zachary Ryan '08, Andrew Bardetti '08, and Dylan Begin '08. Varsity members included Neel Vora '06, Michael Lefemine '06, Aqeel Siddiqui '05, Anthony Mariano '07, Zachary Dyer '07, Andre Savastano '06, Shamus Hyland '07, Thomas Busby '05, Benjamin Simmons '05, and Sameer Taneja '06. With many veterans returning, the Debate Team looks for 2005-2006 to be a very successful season.

Russian History Club

The Russian History Club meets once per week throughout the academic year to study Russian history, culture, art, architecture, poetry and literature. Students research and present projects of interest to the development and study of Russian history. The emphasis is on the cultural evolution. The club also is a member of the Russian Research Center at Harvard University which provides a number of cultural activities, educational programs and events with other Russian History and language clubs. The program also includes speakers of various backgrounds in Russian history and culture. The club takes an annual field trip to the Amherst that have Russian art on display. In addition, the club visits the local "Icon center" sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities in Sturbridge. The final event is the annual club trip to Cage St. Petersburg in Brookline, Massachusetts.

History Club

John Harrison (third from left) was this years recipient of the History Award.

The History Club consists of members who love to talk about any and all aspects of history. While the conversations generally lean towards military subjects, they also discuss the ancient world, medieval topics, and modern theories of government. Meetings are held weekly in Dr. Dhanda's room to discuss history, current events, and to plan for future projects. Projects this year included movie screenings and guest speakers.

French Club

"Learn a Language, Live a Culture" is the motto of Le Cercle Français. Whether it be enjoying French theater, learning to appreciate French artists at the M.F.A., interviewing a francophone in the target language, sharing a French meal and conversation (tout en francais, bien sûr!) at one of Boston's finest French restaurants, listening to the Boston Symphony interpret works of Berlioz, or participating in an educational adventure to Québec Province or la Belle France, our goal is always to offer our students a hands on opportunity to use and to enjoy the French language, its people, its culture and its traditions. Venez tous et nombreux! On vous attend à bras ouvert. On va s'amuser, c'est promis !

Studio Art

St. John's hosted its first student Visual Arts Night in the Kenary Gallery this year. A large crowd of parents, faculty, and staff came to enjoy 88 works on display, all created by St. John's emerging painters, sculptors, sketch artists, and photographers. Under the tutelage of Fine Arts teacher Karen Shortsleeve, the Visual Arts program has grown immensely and several students have been recognized at the state level for their outstanding work. Seniors Aaron Binaco, Joe Farese, Andrew King and junior Tim Patch entered seven different pieces in the Boston Globe's annual high school visual arts competition. Aaron Binaco won a Gold Key Award for his photograph, The Alleyway.

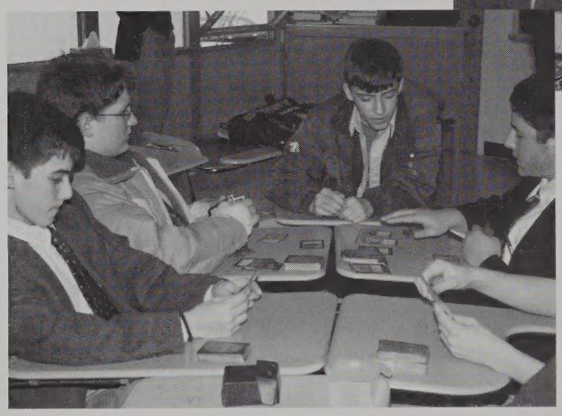
Strategy Club



The Strategy Club, moderated by Mr. Dermot Healey, was once again very popular at St. John's for the 2004-2005 school year. This group met every Wednesday after school to play video games, magic cards, and other games that tested their strategic skills.

Outdoor Club

The Outdoor Club was started this year by a group of students who enjoy nature and hiking. Members of this club included: Michael Legere, Greg Webber, Erik Strom, Zach White, Gary Beisaw, Greg DiGeronimo The club was moderated by Mr. Peter Hook.

Ski Club

During the 2004-2005 season, the St. John's Ski Club engaged 152 student participations at five major ski resorts in four New England states. The activities included a six week program at Wachusett Mountain and trips to the following resorts: Mount Snow, VT, Stratton Mountain, VT, Killington Mountain, VT, Wildcat Mountain, NH, Sunday River, ME. Students with any interest in skiing or snowboarding were encouraged to participate in the club with the goal of enjoying the outdoors and fostering and developing new friendships. Club moderators were Mr. John Loftus and Mr. Brian Mulcahy.

Culinary Club

In the spring of 2003, several students initiated the Gourmet Club. Over the past two years, the Club has become immensely popular and now boasts nearly thirty members. This club is moderated by Mr. Dermot Healey and Mrs. Carol Fredette.

During the past academic year, the Club members have done everything from learning how to make pizza from scratch, candy, such as chocolate fudge and English Toffee Crunch, to cooking a benefit dinner for the St. Vincent de Paul Society, raising $500.00 for this Worcester charity.

Young Writers' Conference 2004

One weekend each fall, high school students from Worcester County congregate at Saint John's High School to hone their writing skills with professional authors at the Worcester County Young Writers' Conference. A comfortable environment of mentors and peers provides each student with the attention needed to foster their creative minds. The weekend culminates with a guest lecture by a well-known author. This year, the Writers' Conference celebrated its fifteenth anniversary with keynote speaker Jimmy Santiago Baca – a powerful Chicano poet and activist.

Budding writers worked in core groups with one of eight local professional writers. Each day students attended workshops focusing on a particular aspect of writing such as poetry or fiction. Sunday evening, core groups presented student readings of cooperative pieces written throughout the weekend.

The 2004 Worcester County Young Writers' Conference, headed by Mr. Ermilio, Ms. Vanaskie and senior student directors Pat McKiernan, Jack Dawson, Jake DiGregorio and Bryan Donovan, was a memorable event for many future great writers.

End of the Routine

I wake up and see a gray sky. I do not even sigh anymore. I do not care. The days blend together, and I cannot tell them apart. Today is the same as yesterday; tomorrow will be the same as today.

I move through my morning rituals, more from habit than anything else. I take a shower. I shave my face. I make my breakfast. I eat my breakfast.

As I chew through the cold bagel, a feeling of disgust boils inside me. I drop my bagel; I do not want to eat it. I do not want any of this life. I want something else; I need a new start.

All my life, I have been living the same day over and over again. A tyrannical routine seized my hand, and now it dictates my life. I no longer know who I am. How am I different? Who am I?

I will not live my life according to a schedule. I will not follow a plan. I will take back my life.

I grab my plate and hurl it against the wall. The shattering porcelain awakens a new feeling in me. The act of destruction thrills me. Eager to continue, I throw my glass to the floor. Tiny shards of glass and droplets of milk scatter in a large circle. I grab my fork and butter knife and shove them in the microwave. Tearing the drawer open, I pour more utensils into the machine.

With a grin on my face, I sit down and wait.

Icon 2005

The 2005 issue of the St. John's ICON was one of the school's most successful in several years. One hundred submissions were received in categories that included short story, poetry, art, and photography. Particularly prevalent were submissions from the upperclassmen, including a strong showing by the graduating class. Patrick McKiernan and David Mavricos served as senior editors of the literary magazine and saw it through design processes, though students from every class provided additional editing. Mr. Ermilio served as the faculty advisor, overseeing the editing and design processes by the students. Mr. Blondin's publishing class also helped greatly in the design phase, allowing the ICON to be designed in house and available for the ICON staff to edit freely and efficiently. The ICON staff is very proud of this year's publication and of the caliber of the work found in its pages.

"Charades" from the 2005 ICON magazine

Knowing that the world was made for me makes me feel cheated.
I could have done more. I'm not that special when you put aside the whiteness, the blank boring.
I played with the interesting ones. Wasn't it nice?
Our parents smiled and shook hands, proud of what they'd done.
And then at home the stories came. Small remarks. Nothing serious.
The harmless words entered my body taking over nothing - finding nothing there.
The seed was planted and grew quickly with every day's sun and every week's rain.
When they asked, it was easy. Of course I knew their story.
I'd played their games and eaten their food.
I'd smiled so wide I could almost feel my mouth as wide as theirs.
But I didn't know.
I didn't know that game we played.
I floated on the placid surface, unaware of the currents
My body caused below.

Now the world that was made for me falls apart
more quickly with each day.
At first I fought the feeling –
I grabbed the headlines to cover my dry hair.
As the rain hit the pages, the print shook loose.
Black into White. Rigid lines pouring into obscurity.
The water reached my hair, fell upon my scalp and rolled down my cheek.
My eyelash held a momentary pool of liberation.
Soon, all my white-boy clothes were soaked and stuck to my skin.
No use in fighting it now, so I did the only thing that made sense:
I ran from puddle to puddle, splashing and dancing in the street.
I had never danced in the rain before – only talked about it, dreamt about it.
Sitting on a park bench to rest, I pulled out that beautifully blurred newspaper and read the truest words never written.

Chorus

Again St. John's chorus had another wonderful year under the supreme direction of Mr. Richard Monroe. Again they provided music for numerous events such as masses, sports events, prayer services, the blessing of the new track, the memorial of Pope John Paul II, the National Honor Society banquet, graduation, and many more. This year we had two outstanding singers who made it to central districts for singing. James Schofield and Alex Fiedler both outstanding singers had a wonderful time at the central districts. Alex Fiddler went on from there and went to sing in the all states choir which is by invitation only. The chorus will miss all it seniors and looks forward to another great year next year.

Music

For yet another year the music program under the direction of Mr. James McCluskey flourished. Students preformed and gained recognition individually and as part of successful ensembles. A few highlights of their work on campus included spring show performances, masses, prayer services, and the blessing of the track.

The St. John's Jazz ensemble preformed at the International Jazz Educators High School Jazz Festival. The judges awarded the band the silver medal. Outstanding soloists included seniors Jason Lajoie, Andrew Carruthers, and Miles Betley, junior Joshua Connell, and freshman Will Sutton and the saxophone section as a whole. Judges also commended Pat Fiorillo (drums) and Sean Daly (bass) for their strong contributions to the musical performance.

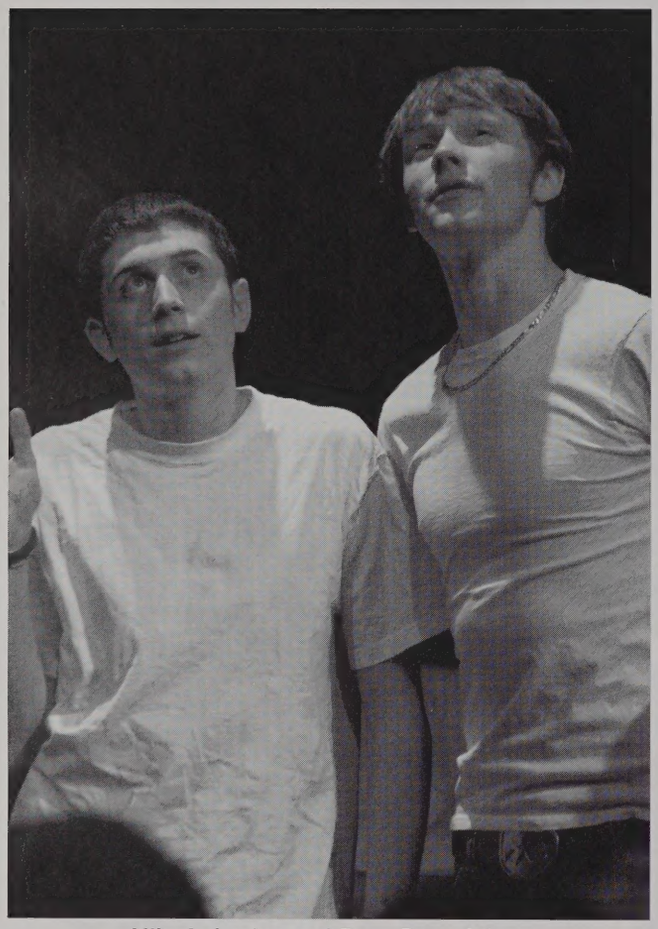
Improv



Mike Lefemine and Ryan Desaulniers

The St. John's Improv Society has adapted and grown ExPoNeNtIaLlY at St. John's, much to the delight of their fans. This year alone, throughout the course of four shows (compared to two the previous year and one the year before that) the Society "pioneered" a whole new type of improvisation. This year was also notable because it marks the last year of many of the original improvisers. The Improv Society owes its thanks to the amazing talent of its members and the dedication of their fans (parents) and the support from Mr. Lebaron, Mr Gregory, Mr. Dolan and Mr. Deedy (these four men in particular nurtured the club through its infancy). The Administration has also been very generous.

The club's members include but are not limited to, John Rodier, Shobhit Singla, Kevin Davis, Dan Carney, Jared and Dave Rivas, Mario Muto, Rusty Johnson, Michael Lefemine, Mike and Steven Schwartz, Tim Dean, Sam Osborn, Brian Quinlan, Ben Saviet, Bryan O'Donnell, Ryan Desaulniers, Noah Desrosiers, Ben Pultorak, Colin Doyle, Andy Barhite, Nischal Nadig, Joe Jacobson, Brendan Sargent, and Dennis Burke.

Frisbee Club

Frisbee Club was very popular in the fall of 2004. This club provides a great way to meet other students who want to have fun in a less organized after school sports setting.

Table Tennis Club

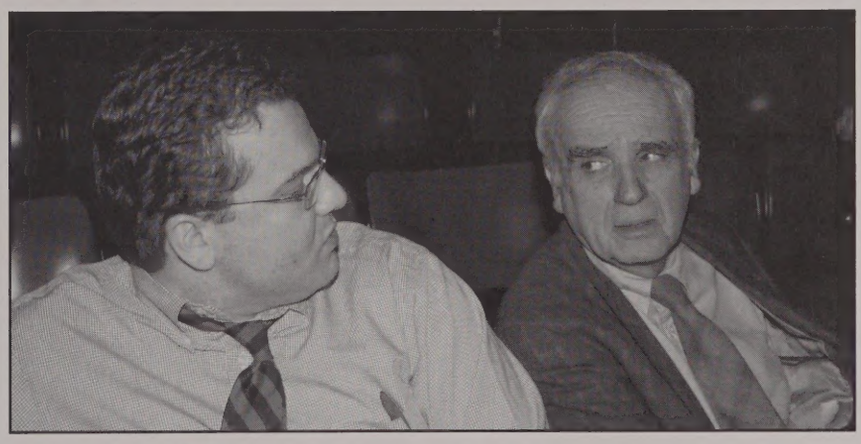
One of the fastest sports in the world, where athletes of all ages come to compete in grueling trials of speed, stamina, and skill, table tennis is the focus of the SJ Table Tennis Club. On Mondays or Fridays, the classrooms and hallways of Conal Hall come alive. Moderated by Mrs. Shi, the Tennis Table Club is a proving ground for those who yearn to become the chosen few. At the beginning of the year, a tournament was held and a new champion crowned; junior Brandon Williams. Williams was the underdog in the final match where he faced the defending champion, sophomore John Caffrey. What challenger awaits our champion next year? Who will step up to the table and take hold of the victory paddle? Only time will tell...

Fall Show Hamlet

The Shakespearean tragedy "Hamlet" tells the story of a Denmark prince who discovers his father the king was murdered by his uncle Claudius in an attempt to usurp the throne. For three nights, under the colorful direction of Mr. John Deedy, the actors dazzled sellout crowds with electrifying performances. Tim Dean played the lead role of Hamlet brilliantly. Fellow cast members such as Jim Schofield, Mike Lefemine, Sam Osborn, Noah DesRosiers, David Mavricos, and Steve Schwartz, only strengthened the show with their own amazing acting skills. In order to stay true to what was traditional in Shakespeare's day, Mr. Deedy chose to use a simple set with simple props and allow men to play female roles and vice versa. The lighting crew also deserves much credit for setting the mood well. Thanks to all who worked on creating one of the best shows in recent memory.

Winter Shows

Sganarelle & A Jealous Husband



The Drama Club mounted productions of two one-act plays by Moliere, Sganarelle and The Jealous Husband. Directed by Pat Dolan and Mike Clark '93, the productions featured an impressive set, 18th century costumes, and music ranging from J.S. Bach to Frank Sinatra. The cast and crew performed three nights, including a special "dinner theatre" show for family and friends which began with supper in the Manor House followed by the plays in the Black Box Theatre.

The Drama Club performed Sganarelle in the preliminaries of the State Drama Competition and garnered several awards. Seniors Rob Heald and Jim Schofield, and junior Dave Marvricos were named to the All-Star Cast. The set design by senior Kyle Bridgeo, Matt Levesque, and Paul Trimby and sophomore Pete Levesque received fine critical commentary by the judges. Saint John's also received a Peer Recognition Award from Boston's Winsor School for "a great job making (Moliere) both understandable and hilarious!"

MOVIE MAGIC

This year's Spring Spectacular, "Movie Magic" was an overwhelming success. The cast, lead by seniors Jeff Billingham, Sean Daly, Kevin Davis, Ryan Desaulniers, and Ben Horgan, brought the scenes from hit movies to life and brought the crowd to its feet! With everything from a silent movie vignette to numbers from "Star Wars" and "Titanic," the show had something to please every moviegoer's interest. Up-and-coming crooners Mike Lefemine and Dan McColgan, both juniors, gave all-star performances, showing their preparedness to take the lead next year.

Of course without the hard work of the stage and lighting crews under the guidance of seniors Kyle Bridgeo, Paul Trimby, Joe Farese, Matt Fiedler, Abdullah Nizamani, Andy Maher, Mike Susienka, and Rick Synkoski, the show could not have gone on. This year the two hardworking teams began working together more closely to synchronize the lighting effects used for the show. With the new platforms stage crew constructed, we have the foundation of a sturdy and aesthetically pleasing stage for years to come.

This 39th annual show was produced by Ms. Diane Vanaskie and Matt Silva Sa '05. This was Ms. Sheila Waters Fucci's 28th year directing. Mr. Todd Mulligan '96 supervised the stage crew while Mr. Rick Connell supervised the lighting and technical aspects of the show. Mr. Richard Monroe arranged and conducted the music with his usual finesse.

Many very talented young women from surrounding schools graced the spring show with their beautiful voices and dancing skills. Kristy Couture and Lily Goodman are two of the outstanding seniors who will be missed next year.

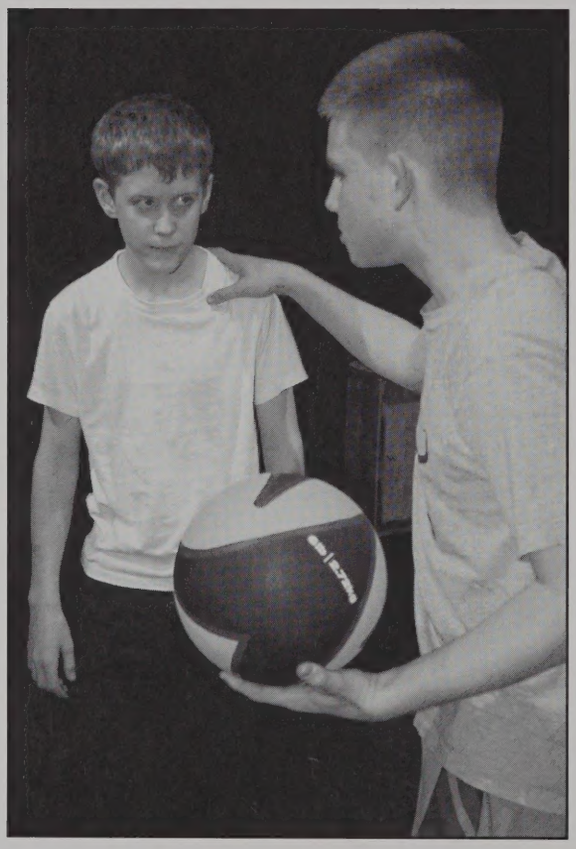
Freshman Show "A Separate Peace"



On May 12th through May 14th, 2005, St. John's Drama Club presented its sixth annual All-Freshman Play, A Separate Peace. Featuring seven up-and-coming young performers in an all-male cast, Peace is the classic John Knowles novel about a prep school friendship that goes awry, in a New England boarding school (think Phillips Exeter Academy) during World War II. As the devoted friends whose relationship is shattered by an ultimately fatal, spontaneous act of violence, Bob Shine moved the audience as the bighearted Finny, and Dan Hope made a strong impression in the quietly intense role of the more intellectual Gene.

Ably supporting Shine and Hope were Gary Beisaw, Mike Deedy, Pat Gribbons, and John Welch as their prep schoolmates haunted by their approaching combat service in the war, and Will Sutton as the school's shocked headmaster, Mr. Prud'homme. The play was directed by Mr. Patrick Dolan and junior Dan McColgan; the latter led rehearsals in an open, generous and physical style. Well done, Dan! PJ Beaudry '08 operated lighting, with an assist from sophomore stage wizard Pete Levesque. Freshman Zac Ryan (also understudy for all seven roles) handled set-changing duties. Paul Morana '06 built us the large tree from which Finny and Gene jump into the river that flows by Devon School.

Drama Club looks for big things in the future from this crop of nine talented young actors and stage crewmen.

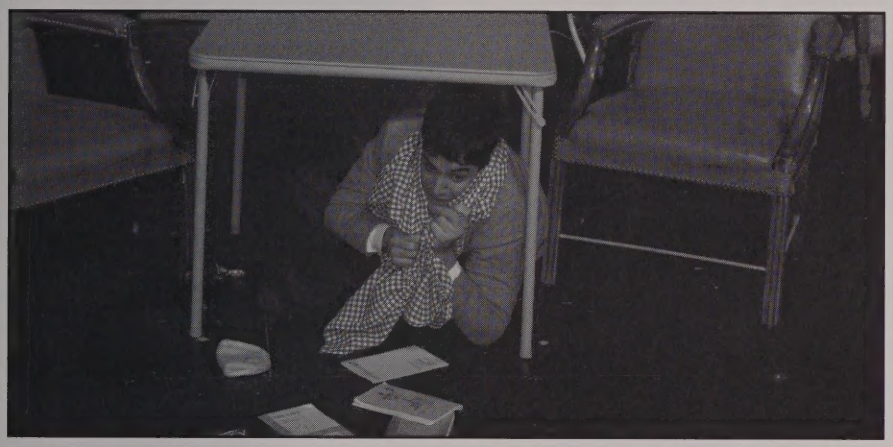
Student Directed "Moon Over Buffalo"



Ken Ludwig's "Moon Over Buffalo" is a hilarious slapstick comedy that combines the right amount of zany behavior and never-ending confusion that kept the packed house in stitches. "Moon Over Buffalo" marks the 4th year for the Student-Run Production at St. John's. With the past successes of "Arsenic and Old Lace", "Lend me a Tenor" and "Deathtrap", the cast and crew of this year's performance had much to live up to. Student directors Jeff Billingham '05 and Mike Lefemine '06 did not disappoint. Mr. Paul Jourcin was once again the producer. This project continued to set a standard of professional, collegiate-level theater, while still allowing each participant to grow in all that high school theater sets forth, especially in the terms of community and team work. Each cast and crew member, as well as the directors, grew from this experience.

Brendan Sargent '07 and Rusty Johnson '05 showed amazing talent in the spot light along with Tim Dean '05, Vinny Palermo '06, Katie Foley, Lily Goodman and Carolyn Richer. Mrs. Mary G. Iuso, our own school nurse, dazzled the audience with her character by putting her N.Y. accent to good use.

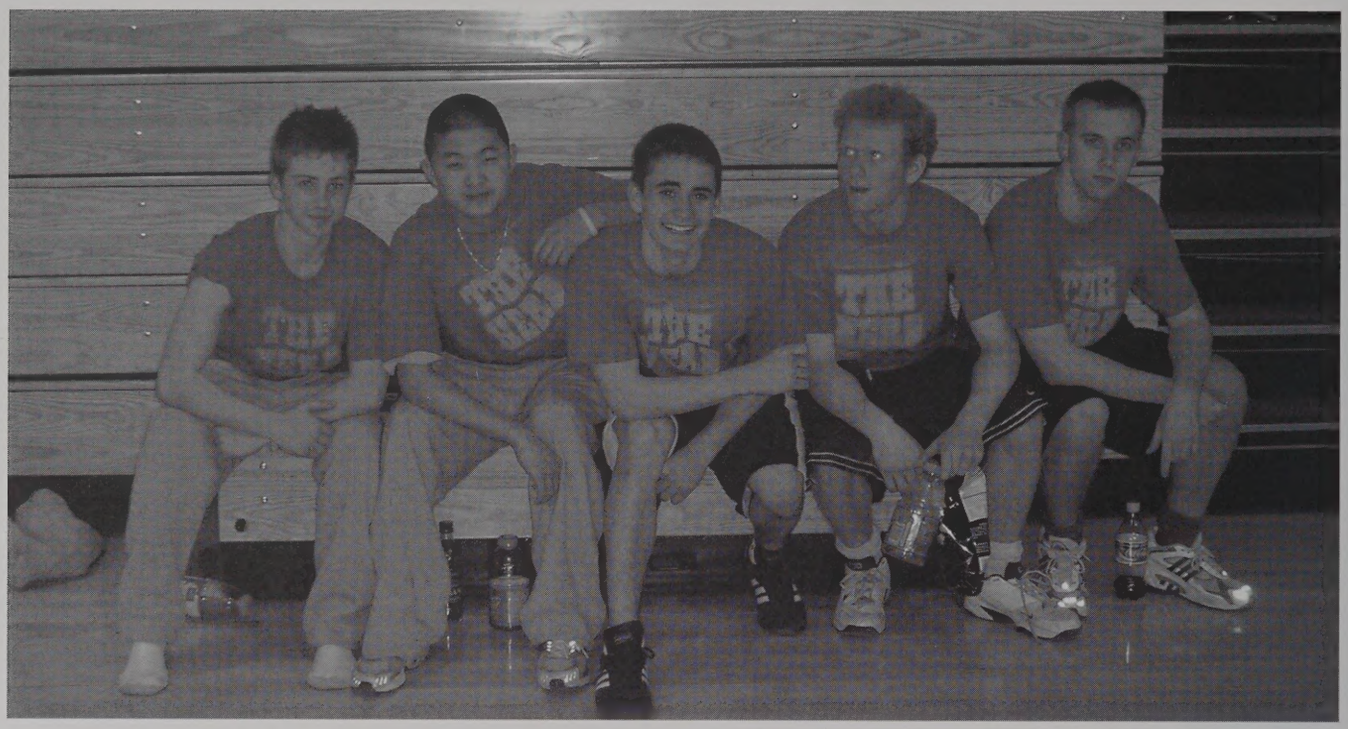
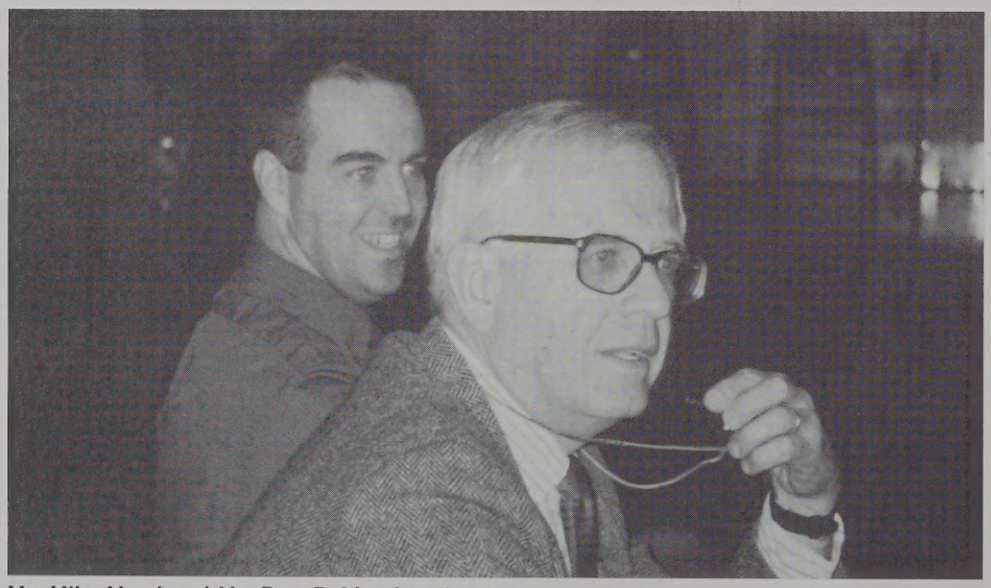
INTRAMURALS





Mr. Mike Mead and Mr. Bert Bolduc keeping score.

The school's intramural sports program offers students the opportunity to play different sports, both with and against their fellow students. The program is completely voluntary and allows the boys the opportunity to learn the sport if they've never played it. All that's required are a pair of sneakers and workout clothing.

There are no cuts and all kids play the same amount of time, giving every student the opportunity for playing time. Basketball and Softball are played in the fall. Weight lifting, offered year-round, is the only activity during the winter. The school's weight room is only five years old and has a variety of equipment, allowing students to get either a full weight training or cardiovascular workout.

In the spring, flag football and soccer are offered. Intramurals allows the kids to compete and be active throughout the whole year.

SWIM TEAM

Meet the Saint John's Swimming and Diving Team, just a group of 34 guys with an extraordinary story. It all started on December 1st, when our new coach, Mr. Dana Hodges realized that his team had something; the uncommon ability of all the members of the team to form great bonds of friendship. Somehow, it didn't stop there. Mr. Hodges also found out the caliber of some of the team's swimmers at the very first meet. In Sal Barba's very first race of the season he qualified for All-American in the 200-yard freestyle, setting a Holy Cross pool record in the process. In fact, he qualified for All-American thirty minutes later in the 100-yard backstroke. For inspiration the team looked to each other. The smile we saw on coaches faces that night never faded away.

The three captains, Senior Sal Barba, Junior Connor Sullivan, and Senior Brian Beahn, helped to lead the team to a 4-5 league record along with Coach Dana Hodges, Coach Lauren Copp, and Diving Coach Wilson Aybar. Senior Andrew Caola, Senior Chris Mariani, Junior Joel Martineau, and Sophomore Sam Dumas also had strong swims that helped earn the team key points in close meets.

Saint Johns placed 4th at the Conference Meet and 5th at the State Meet. Sal Barba set a state record in the 100-yard freestyle and also won the 200-yard freestyle. Sophomore Sam Dumas swam the 100-yard butterfly and the 200 Individual Medley at States. Diver Tom Fontecchio was named to the Catholic Conference All-Star team along with Sal. The highlight of the season came when the 200-freestyle relay team of Barba, Beahn, Sullivan, and Dumas won at the state meet and set a school record in a time of 1:30.91. The same crew went on to get a 3rd place finish in the 400-freestyle relay, setting another school record with a time of 3:22.57. Good luck to all the seniors next year.

For those of us that lived the season, we will probably always remember: 51 practices, 9 meets, 3 coaches, 1 unforgettable season.

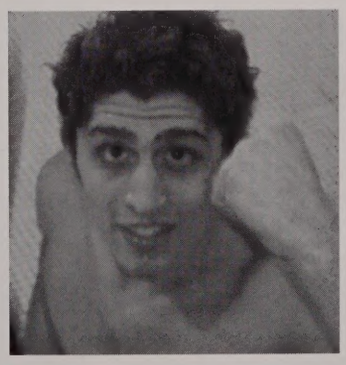
Salvatore Barba



Sal Barba has left his mark on high school swimming as one of the top swimmers in Massachusetts. He is a three time national swimmer and will attend the University of Michigan in the fall of 2005. He holds 7 individual school records and is a part of the 3 relays that also hold school records. He set the state record in the 100-yard backstroke as a sophomore and broke the record again in his junior year. He set the state record in the 200-yard freestyle as a junior, and was the first swimmer to go under 46 seconds in the 100-yard freestyle his senior year with a time of 45.86.

FOOTBALL

Saint John's won the Central/West Division I Super Bowl Championship with a decisive 24-14 victory over Longmeadow on December 4, 2004. The Super Bowl Championship capped an exciting 10-2 season for the Pioneers playing under first-year Head Coach John Andreoli '78.

Following an opening day loss, Saint John's reeled off six consecutive wins. The offense improved weekly during the streak thanks to the outstanding leadership of three seniors, quarterback Eric Dickson, tight end Ross Pentland and tackle Greg Michon. Senior receivers Adam Matson and Jay Merrill also contributed, providing Saint John's with a balanced offensive passing attack and outstanding perimeter run blocking.

The streak ended with a loss to Xaverian, but Saint John's then rallied to beat the top-ranked Leominster Blue Devils. Saint John's defense, led by the stellar play of five seniors, linebackers Zach Demma and Ben Roopenian, defensive ends Mark Ozarowski and James Savage, and defensive tackle James McGillicuddy, held the high-powered Leominster running game in check. Tailback Peter Edwards and linemen Ken Gurge, John Corey, and Mike Wholey spearheaded a ball control offensive attack that carried the day.

Saint John's clinched the Central Massachusetts Division I championship in a shutout victory against Fitchburg led by the outstanding special teams play of seniors Jason Kahn, Scott Anctil, Dan Moynagh, Sean Cutting, and James Foley. Defensively, senior tackle David O'Neill continued his solid performance versus Fitchburg's power running attack.

The 85th Thanksgiving Day game between Saint John's and St. Peter-Marian was a 35-0 triumph for the Pioneers. Seniors Dan Moynagh, James Farwell, and Andrew Nute featured prominently in the Pioneer's offensive attack.

At the conclusion of the season, two players garnered public honors for their outstanding play. Quarterback Eric Dickson earned Central Massachusetts Division I Offensive MVP honors, and James McGillicuddy was named Gatorade Player of the Year for Massachusetts.

Soccer

With the goal of securing an unprecedented fifth consecutive District title, the Saint John's soccer team jumped out to a 6-0 start. Led by senior tri-captains Matt Duggan, Rory O'Connor, and Mark Mooradian, the team notched impressive wins against eventual State Co-Champion Boston College High, as well as traditional Division 1 powers Xaverian, New Bedford, and Wachusett. The Pioneers closed the regular season with a difficult 2-0 victory over St. John's Prep. Senior Dan Padilla played his usual strong game in the midfield and was rewarded with two assists and named the Ken Carlson '73 Outstanding Player of the game for Saint John's.

Coming into the District Tournament with a 13-4-2 record and seeded sixth, Saint John's hosted 11th seed Leominster in the opening round. The Pioneers came away with a hard fought 2-1 overtime victory. Dan Padilla knocked in what was expected to be the game winner, while Chris Harvey scored the crucial overtime goal against Leominster. In the second round, Saint John's defeated North High 1-0. Fran Ball sniped the lone goal as keeper Matt Johnson and backs Geoff Stoker, Ben Simmons, Mark Mooradian, and Patrick Blaney played exceptionally.

The Pioneers continued their winning ways. Against Shepherd Hill, James Harshaw scored twice for Saint John's before Rory O'Connor netted the game winner for a 3-2 semifinal victory. Michael Perkins, Brendan Orino, and Paul Sawyer all warrant recognition for their outstanding efforts.

Unfortunately, the team's quest for the District championship ended with a 2-0 loss to eventual State Co-Champion Algonquin. Throughout the playoffs, midfielders Matt Duggan, Dan Padilla, Chris Harvey, and Patrick Brunell were superb, while strikers Chris Lyons, Ethan Klausmeyer, and Diego Castro were stellar up front. Seniors Adam Chin, Matt Palmgren, and Chris McKenna also deserve special recognition for their years of dedication and commitment to Saint John's soccer, and all members of the team should be proud of their outstanding work during the season and their 15-5-2 final record.

St. John's Golf

The golf team posted a strong 15-3 record this fall. The team was young, featuring just three seniors (Rob Prior, Tom O'Keefe, and Ted Swiderski), four juniors (Chris Barnum, Todd Lane, Kyle Tibbetts, and Dave Turnblom), three sophomores (Brandon Parker, Chris Reed, and Pete Wilson), and two freshmen (Matt Burke and Taylor Fontaine). In an impressive first campaign, Fontaine averaged a score of 37 while claiming the individual District title at Gardner Municipal Golf Course, shooting a tournament low 74.

Combining the top four scores of Fontaine, Turnblom, Tibbetts, and Wilson, Saint John's tallied a team score of 318. That was good enough for second place at the Districts and a trip to the State Finals. Unfortunately, a cold, rainy day at the Glen Ellen Country Club in Millis proved difficult for the Pioneers to overcome. Tibbetts, Wilson, and Lane were the top three finishers for the Pioneers and helped secure an eighth place finish in the State tournament.

With nine returning varsity players, many of whom have significant tournament experience, Coach Bill Prendiville's squad has high hopes for another superb year in 2005.

The Cross Country team had another great season, due primarily to the commitment of many veteran runners on the squad. Although injured for much of the season, senior co-captain Jake Devereaux and junior Matt Tieuli contributed in many ways to the team's success. Matt overcame his injuries late in the season to place third in the District championships and eighth at the Massachusetts Division 1 State race.

Senior co-captain Ben Saviet also played a vital role. He placed 11th at the Districts, helping bring Saint John's to within two points of a District title. His younger brother, sophomore Nat Saviet, placed ninth at the Districts and 44th at the state meet. Another sophomore, Stephen Gemme, finished 88th at the state race.

These premiere runners were supported by solid performances throughout the season by seniors Tim Guerin, Viktor Makarov, John Rodier, junior Tom Renaud, sophomores Chris Bergan and Adrian Kun, and freshman Brian Nehring.

Ski Team

The 2005 season was a very successful one for the St. John's Ski Team. Under the direction of head coach Sandy Genna the team continued to dominate in the Central Mass Catholic League by winning the overall championship. Their undefeated season was a repeat from last year along with their over all championship. They prevailed in good form winning the Ward Hill Cup. They were eligible to send 8 members of the team to States. These members included from the senior class: Ray Sansoucy, Bryan Donovan, Joe Curran, and Michael Syslo. Junior Eric Kronlund went along with sophomore Chris Stiffler, Chris Galkowski, and Tyler Sleeper. They finished twelfth overall. Next year they are hoping to repeat the success of great skiers and coaches.

Led by a committed group of nine seniors, the Saint John's wrestling team grappled its way to an 8-5-2 league record. Eight wrestlers placed in the top ten in their weight class at the sectionals. Captain Chris Harvey '05 brought home a second, and Captains Andrew Loach '05 and James McGillicuddy '05 both placed third in their respective classes. Mike Colebrook '06 finished fourth in his class, Adam Matson '05, Jeremy Radzik '06, and Brett Forest '07 each earned a fifth place honor, and Captain Jeff Bercume '05 rounded out the top group with a sixth place finish. In the State meet, Chris Harvey took a sixth place on an injury default and James McGillicuddy defended his heavyweight title.

Coach Ladd Lavallee will step down as the head coach of the Saint John's wrestling squad. His knowledge of the sport and commitment to his wrestlers will be greatly missed. Together with Coaches Keene, Sasha, and Paoletta, he inspired the team on and off the mat.

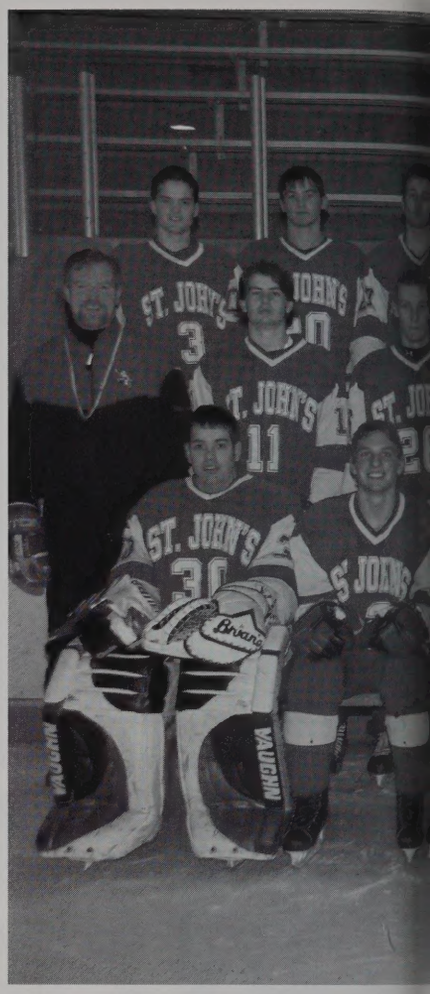
Playing in their first season in the renovated Coaches Pavilion, Coach Bob Foley's varsity basketball team continued its winning ways. With four starters gone from last year's 20-4 team, the 2004-2005 campaign offered a number of challenges. Under the leadership of senior tri-captains Ross Pentland, Dan Little, and Matt Badjo, as well as seniors Peter Lauring and Andrew McLaren, the team met the challenges and finished with a strong 17-8 record.

The season was marked by numerous close contests. Saint John's won the 1st Annual Laska Invitational Tournament with victories over St. Peter-Marian and Wachusett (by one point) in the final. The mid-season featured four overtime games in a row, three of which Saint John's won. The Pioneers captured the tough Central Mass Conference with a 5-1 record, giving them home court advantage for the first two District playoff games. Saint John's notched wins over St. Peter-Marian and Wachusett before losing to South High School.

At Saint John's, basketball is always a team sport. Several individual performances, however, deserve special mention. Ross Pentland became the 11th player in Saint John's history to reach 1,000 career points. Junior David Curley had an excellent year averaging 15 points per game, and Matt Badjo was a force inside averaging 11 points and 9 rebounds on the season.

HOCKEY



Expected by some to be included in the elite Division 1A this season, the defending state champion Pioneer hockey team competed brilliantly again in Division I. Quick out of the gate, the team compiled a 4-0-1 record in its first five games, including victories over Division 1A opponents St. John's Prep and Austin Prep. Injuries plagued the team throughout January, but the boys worked hard and went undefeated in their last six weeks of the season, including a 2-1 road victory against eventual Division 1A champion Catholic Memorial. Qualifying for post season play for the 18th consecutive year, the team won its first two playoff games before a thrilling overtime loss to Belmont High School in the Division I North semi-finals.

This year's success is attributed to the hard work of nine seniors: goaltenders Ray Monroe and Jason Gaskell, defensemen Matt Hanlon, Mike DiReda, Dan Sullivan, and Fran Ball, and forwards Tom Ford, Tim Stalmok, and Peter Carney. Their collective performances over the past four years were outstanding. Monroe is one of the greatest goalies in Pioneer history, finishing his high school career with a goals against average under 2, a save percentage over 95, and two straight selections to the Boston Globe All-Scholastic team.

Under the leadership of Coaches Brian Murphy, Michael Mead, and Greg Spencer, the Pioneer hockey team continued its tradition of excellence by recording a 13-7-5 overall record and another strong playoff performance.

SJ Indoor Track, 2004-2005 District Champs!

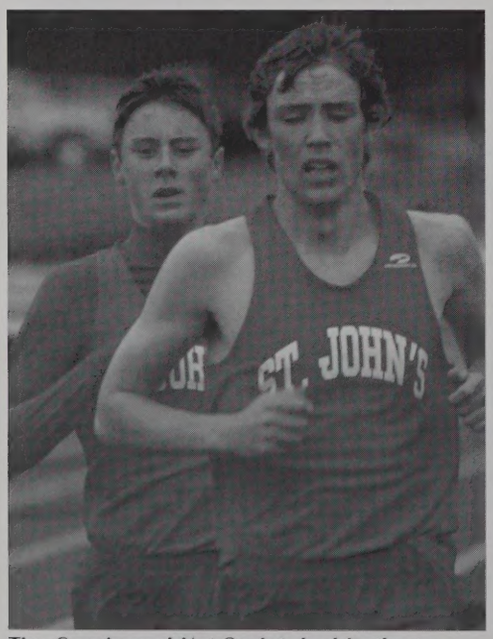
INDOOR TRACK

The 2004-2005 Indoor Track team found itself in a difficult position coming into the season having lost numerous key performers to graduation. Still, the young team set its sights high, aiming to repeat once again as the Central Massachusetts District Champions. Led by senior veterans and a talented crew of underclassmen, the Pioneers sought out to achieve their goal.

The season began on a high note with early successes at the Brown Invitational in Providence. Both the 4x800 Relay and Sprint Medley Relay fought their way to the medal stand with 6th place finishes in each event. The 4x800 consisted of strong legs by Jake Devereaux, John Rodier, Ben Saviet, and Matt Tieuli while the Sprint Medley featured Tieuli, Rob Wiley, Matt Logan, and Dave Soiles. The regular season kicked off in stunning fashion with a win by the narrowest margin over rival Wachusett. Led by senior captains Rob Wiley and Domenic Cornacchioli, and junior captain Matt Tieuli as well as seniors Tim Guerin, Jake Devereaux, Ben Saviet, Rob Wiley, Tom O'Keefe, Domenic Cornacchioli and Kevin Davis, the St. John's harriers and hurlers compiled a regular season record of 6-2. The regular season saw many new and impressive personal bests in every event for almost every athlete on the squad.



Tim Guerin and Nat Saviet duel in the two mile run.

The Post-Season saw the Pioneers as the underdogs at the District E Championships, despite the fact that they were the reigning champions. Despite close meets and an early season loss to district teams, the Pioneers managed to prevail once again when the lights were bright, winning by a margin of five points over second place Shrewsbury. A First place finish by the 4x200 meter relay featuring Chris Lyons, Rob Wiley, Justin Dowd, and Matt Logan as well as a top placing by Dave Soiles in the 600 meter set the stage for the team to succeed. High finishes by Jake Devereaux, Matt Logan, Ben Saviet, Matt Tieuli, the 4x800 relay, and the 4x400 relay ensured a victory for St. John's and continued a winning tradition in Central Mass. Many athletes went on to compete at the Class A State meet with Dave Soiles, Matt Tieuli, and 4x800 Relay qualifying for the All-State meet. At All-State, Tieuli placed 5th and qualified for the New England Championships, Soiles finished 16th in the 600 meter, and the 4x800 Relay with Tim Guerin, Tieuli, Soiles, and Jake Devereaux came in 10th.

OUTDOOR TRACK

The 2005 Track Team was expected to win after a successful indoor season. With the help of senior captains Jake Devereaux, James Savage and Kevin Davis they did just that. Their winning ways started at the District E Relays where strong performances delivered them their tenth consecutive title. In the district class A meet the team posted 1st place finishes by Seniors Jake Devereaux, Tim Guerin, James Savage and Junior Dave Soiles. These finishes plus successful relays helped SJ to a resounding victory.

At the District All-Class meet they had a long list of qualifiers for the state meet, Dave Soiles qualified in the 400 with a first place finish, Sophomore Nat Saviet ran an excellent time to capture third in the highly competitive 800 meter race, and James Savage won yet again in the 110 hurdles. The relay teams all qualified for states with the 4x800 and 4x400 teams taking first and the 4x100 team taking second. At the state meet the relay team of Jake Devereaux, Tim Guerin, Nat Saviet, and Matt Tieuli captured fourth place with a time of 8:04.73, only 5 seconds off the school record.

BASEBALL

The St. John's baseball program is regarded as one of the best in Central Mass, and the 2005 version certainly lived up to the standards of the program. The Pioneers hit the schedule running winning thirteen of their first fourteen games under second year Coach George Reidy '95. The Pioneers, led by captains Mike Direda, Nick Gallagher, Keith Lyon, and Dan Moynagh, had two wins against rivals St. Peter-Marian, St. John's Prep, and Lawrence Central Catholic during the season.

The timely hitting of Direda, Senior Mike Alfego, Juniors Taylor Ferguson and Mike Foley, and Sophomores Nick Deprospo and Garrett Smith sparked the offense throughout the season. Outstanding defense was the responsibility of Seniors Gallagher and Matt Abraham, as well as Ferguson and Smith. The Pioneers rode the arms of Seniors Lyon and Steve Possemato, Junior Mike Colebrook, and Sophomore Chad Gallagher to an 18-4 record and the number one seed in the Central Mass Playoffs.

The Pioneers won a slugfest in the semifinals against Leominster, 13-11. In the district finals against Milford, the Pioneers used their potent lineup, aggressive base running, yet another gem by Colebrook, and the left arm of Junior closer Ryan O'Rourke, who came through in another big situation in the playoffs, to capture the District Championship 10-4.

In the state-semifinal the Pioneers ran into a hot West Springfield team that ended their State Championship dreams to the tune of an 8-4 loss. Despite the early exit from the playoffs, the Pioneers had nothing to be ashamed of. Their twenty-one wins was one of the highest totals in school history to cap yet another outstanding St. John's Baseball Season

LACROSSE

Coach Rob Vigeant's squad, led by senior captains Jason Kahn, Pete Lauring, Corey McLaughlin, Mark Ozarowski and Josh Villa, compiled a record of 15-3 in the regular season, going undefeated within the league for the second straight year. Sporting one of the toughest schedules in the state, this year's team featured wins against last year's Rhode Island and New Hampshire State Champions (North Kingstown and Concord, respectively). The Pioneers laxers featured a potent offense and an impregnable defense, outscoring their opponents 228-118. The offense was powered by McLaughlin and juniors Chris Jacobson and Luke Biggins. Defensively, junior Chris Sjogren and captains Kahn and Ozarowski led the lockdown efforts with the help of co-captain Josh Villa's outstanding play. Junior middie and Pioneer Award winner Jeff Moore dominated every aspect of the game garnering All-American honors.

As the first seed in the Central Mass tournament, the post-season started with wins against St. Bernard's and Westborough by a combined score of 39-9. Unfortunately, the 2005 season ended with a loss to Algonquin in the District Championship 13-11. Next years varsity team, however will see the return of some of its best players and will be in contention to avenge the championship loss.

VOLLEYBALL

2005 was yet another successful season for St. John's Volleyball under the direction of coach Al Morel. This year marked the young team's 6th season. The team made a come back at the end of the season and qualified for the Districts with a record of 10-10. Unfortunately, the team lost in the first round of the Districts. The JV team ended with a record of 13-3, so despite losing some talented and dedicated seniors, the future looks bright.

Fall

The Saint John's Crew Team enjoyed a strong fall season. The team expanded, adding singles, doubles, and fours to races. Senior Michael Syslo made a fantastic racing debut, performing in a single. The addition of a double and two fours expanded the team's victories, beginning with a sweep at the Head of the Textile Regatta, and culminating in an incredible showing at the Head of the Charles. At the Charles, the varsity four surprisingly won the boy's high school division and came in third overall, behind only Princeton and Yale. With another successful fall season under its belt, and a long winter of indoor training, the Saint John's Crew Team seeks to repeat its NEIRA championship spring.

Roster:

CREW

Spring

The 2005 spring crew season ended with a solid team performance at the New England Rowing Championships. Led by thirteen seniors, St. John's tied Exeter for the team points trophy, losing out on the tiebreaker as Exeter's first boat finished third, ahead of the St. John's fourth place finish.

The second boat capped a great season, going undefeated in New England, with an open water victory at the rowing championships. At the same time the third boat finished another solid season, also going undefeated in New England, with a gutsy row against a powerful Exeter crew. In the end the JV couldn't overcome them settling for a hard fought silver medal.

The first boat had an up and down season. While losing the Quinsigamond Cup in a disappointing performance to Simsbury, the team rallied for the next race, giving St. Paul's its closest contest in two years. In the end however, it wasn't enough to propel St. John's onto the awards dock at the NEIRA's. The first boat rowed a tough race losing out on a bronze medal by 0.5 seconds and silver by only 1.5 seconds. This solid season was admirably led by a strong group of seniors. They are: Andrew Caola (capt.); Dave Anderson; Miles Betley; Nicholas Binder; Joseph Fryer; Michael Genna; Anthony Genna; Andrew Soloperto; Andrew McLaren; Ross Heinemann; Bryan Donovan; Christopher Mariani; Ryan Levins and the managers: Timothy Savas; Jacob DiGregorio and Michael Syslo.

The underclassmen look to continue the strong rowing tradition championed by the 2005 senior class.

TENNIS

Again another great year for St. John's tennis team lead by the co-captains Mike Dolan and Ted Swiderski. Although they had a fantastic season of 20 wins and only 2 losses, they were disappointed to lose in the finals 5-0 to Sharon High School. Unfortunately much like last year, St. John's will be losing its co-captains Mike and Ted. These two leaders will be greatly missed, as all those who have left before them. However someone St. John's did not intend on being such a huge success was the new freshman and upcoming star Danny Johnson. Coach Ed Hippert and assistant coach Peter Marr were both very optimistic about their team being ready for next year and made it clear that they both planned to stay around to coach again next year.

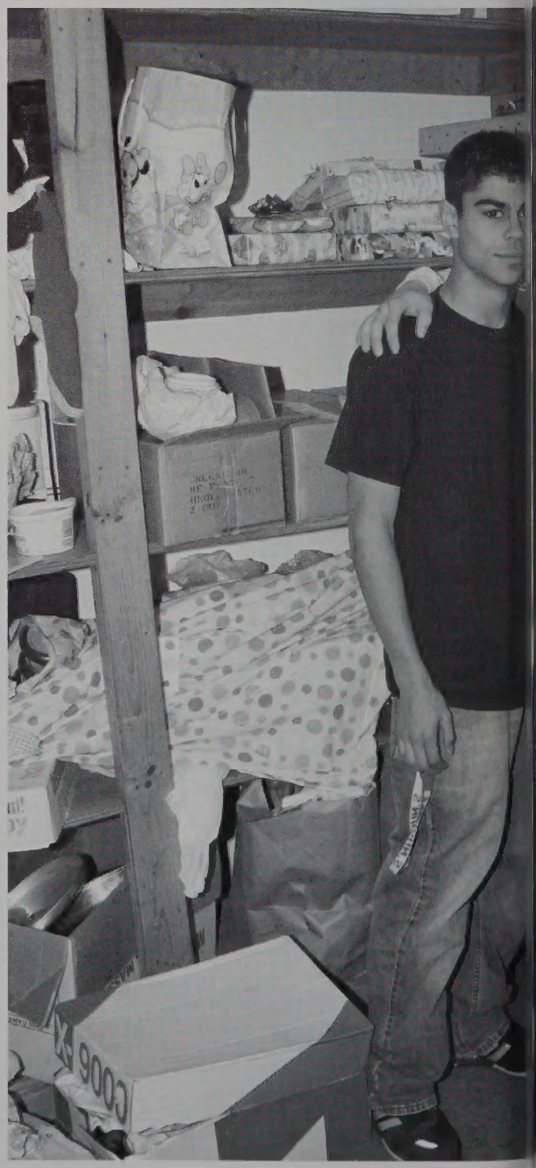
Campus Ministry

Campus Ministry is by far one of the trademarks of St. John's. The center coordinates with the students and faculty to create holiday and special occasion liturgies, along with the ever present morning prayer. The students play an important role in these services, acting as altar servers, gift bearers, lectors, and as musical ministers. Campus Ministry is responsible for each grade level's annual retreat. It also offers a bulletin board where students can find opportunities to volunteer in surrounding communities.

This year's Campus Ministry acquired one new member, Mr. Mark Barille, to work along with Ms. Emily Rauer, director, Ms. Elizabeth Chichak, and Mr. Stephen Linde. Mr. Richard Monroe is the musical coordinator for our liturgical gatherings. Fr. Edward Niccolls is the school's Chaplain.

Mrs. Curran's classes always come through at Christmas time!



The school year 2004-2005 marked the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Xaverian Brothers ministry in America. The Brothers first arrived in Louisville, Kentucky in August of 1854, and within 30 years had spread to Baltimore, Richmond, Boston, and soon thereafter to New York and many other cities. Over the course of the school year there were many celebrations commemorating this milestone in the schools and communities of the Xaverian Brothers.

In the last few days of the summer of 2004, incoming seniors spent four days at Anna Maria College in what became the beginning of an unforgettable year. The Christian Leadership Institute is an overnight retreat in which all seniors-to-be are invited for reflection, games, service, prayer, and preparation for one of the most important years in their lives. Record numbers of people were present, including 99 seniors, 16 faculty members, 10 graduates, and some special guest speakers, teachers and visitors. The highlight of CLI is the third day, the service day. Community Harvest Project, the Henry Lee Willis Center, Matthew 25, the Refugee Apostolate, St. Anne's Church, St. Joan of Arc Church, St. John's Church, St. Peter's Central Catholic School, and the Society of St. Vincent de Paul were the service sites for this year. All the work that everyone was involved in was focused toward the core value stressed throughout it all: "To lead is to serve."

Retreats

Juniors Matthew Danna, Josh Dowd, James Farwell, James Kjelberg, Ryan Turner, Tom Lawless, and senior John Rodier with Ms. Emily Raurer before their departure for the XBSS Retreat

Every student at St. John's attends at least one retreat a year. The somewhat shy freshmen were gathered into the Manor House this year to break the ice with one another, while learning values that will help them throughout their experience at St. John's. Sophomores discussed the many current problems that teens encounter throughout their adolescent years. Juniors spent a day at a retreat center where they were enlightened by many different aspects of life that possibly were not in direct contact with their own lives while the seniors guided the juniors through the cloisters and showed off their leadership skills. The Campus Ministry department and many guest faculty speakers spent much time to create a positive learning environment for the St. John's student community.

XBSS Student Leadership Retreat

An annual five-day program gathers approximately 100 students from all the Xaverian Sponsored Schools. The theme of the retreat is "Falling in Love with the Service of God". Students have the opportunity to meet in small groups, participate in workshops on Xaverian Charism and History, Life of Ministry, Global Awareness, and Stewardship. The retreat ends with a day of service in nearby soup kitchens, shelters and other service agencies. Students are asked to develop a plan to bring the spirit of the Xaverian charism back to their individual schools. Saint John's was represented at this years retreat by juniors Matthew Danna, Josh Dowd, James Farwell, James Kjellberg, Ryan Turner, Tom Lawless, and senior John Rodier.

A work force of parents, faculty, alumni, and students, some in groups with their sports teams and coaches, formed groups and spread out to undertake a wide variety of activities with more than fifty churches, social service agencies and other charitable organizations in and around Worcester. This was a great day for all involved. Organized by Ms. Emily Rauer and the campus ministry team, the groups were prepared and enthusiastic to do what they could to improve the community through their endeavors.

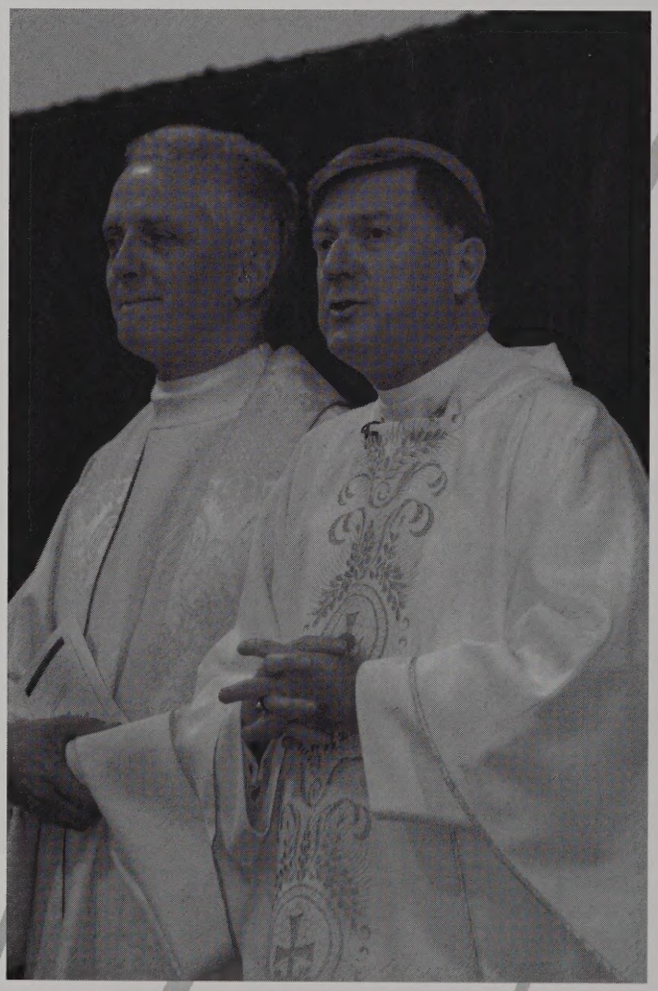
Ryken Week

The week to remember our history...

It has become a tradition for the St. John's community to take some time each year reflecting on the works of their founding fathers: St. Francis Xavier and Theodore James Ryken. Known as Ryken week, the students, faculty, and staff show respect for their predecessors. Because the 2004-05 school year marked 150 years of Xaverian Brother Education in America, this was an especially important year. Some of the things done during the week included a special morning prayer each day, students and teachers spending time discussing the history of the Xaverian Brotherhood, and a mass to finish off the week.



The highlight of the week was the presentation of the Ryken Award, given to the teacher, administrator, or staff member who best exemplifies an ideal Christian spirit and continues Ryken's vision. The recipient this year was Mr. Patrick Dolan of the Fine Arts and World Languages Departments. Mr. Dolan extends Ryken's vision by striving to keep our students focused, not on what they receive, but on what they can give others. His strong work ethic and faith in God allows him to celebrate times of joy and success and to persevere when confronted by challenges. His passion for peace and justice knows no bounds.

John Rodier '05 congratulates each of the brothers for continuing to humbly serving the world for 150 years.

Mr. Dolan, accompanied by his family, shows off his award.

Mr. Brian Mulcahy and his brother shared their musical talent at the mass.

Global Encounter

Domenic Cornacchioli helps to build a fence.

The St. John's Global Encounter has rapidly become one of the most popular retreats the school has to offer. Each spring, instead of taking ten days off from school for April vacation, groups of students travel to distant places in order to personally recognize the realities of poverty and to do what they can in order to lend a helping hand. For the 2005 April vacation, three groups of students went to New York, West Virginia, and South Dakota. Having traveled hundreds to thousands of miles and giving up what could have been a simple, restful vacation, these students and their faculty leaders displayed a commitment to service that is unparalleled.

SAC

Student Activity Council

To lead is to serve

The Student Activity Council is all about helping others. Events run by SAC benefit the student body, people in our immediate community and people in the global community.

The goal of SAC is to help those in need, whether by sponsoring dances to get students and friends together in a relaxed atmosphere away from the rigors of academics, running a Thanksgiving Food Drive, organizing a Christmas Clothing Drive, or Blood Drives. SAC also sponsors the ever popular dress down days in order to raise money for worthy causes or to simply raise Pioneer spirit to support our teams. It is considered essential that students have a Student Activity Council made up of caring, responsible young men who are willing and able to serve the Saint John's community. This year's SAC was moderated by Mr. John Deedy and Mr. Chris Benestad.

As a Christian community, it is the mission of St. John's High School to help develop the whole person in each and every student. This includes the spiritual, social, physical, intellectual, creative, and aesthetic aspects of the student. The Brother Campion Chapter of the National Honor Society serves not only to recognize the talents and contributions of its members, but also to challenge all students to reach their highest potential in every way. This year one hundred and twenty nine new members were inducted into the chapter. GRADUATION 2005

Rob Prior receives the Award for Academic Excellence from Mr. Welch.

May 22nd became a date chiseled into the minds of every member of the Class of 2005. It was graduation day and it was the day that all 265 of them would join over 9,000 past graduates of St. John's High School. It was an especially important graduation for St. John's because 2005 marked the 150th anniversary of the Xaverian Brother's arrival in this country. The ceremonies were led by Auxiliary Bishop George E. Rueger. Highlights of the graduation included speeches by Headmaster Michael Welch who congratulated the class on becoming men of faith and and men of service, SAC President James McGillicuddy, and Class Speaker Robert Prior who told his fellow classmates that "the possibilities to contribute are limitless". Robert Prior was the recipient of the Award for Scholastic Excellence. Mark Ozarowski and John Rodier were the co-recipients of the Xaverian Award, given to those who best exemplify Christian ideals and the Xaverian spirit.

Mark Ozarowski and John Rodier display their Xaverian Awards.

The graduates stand ready to receive their diplomas.

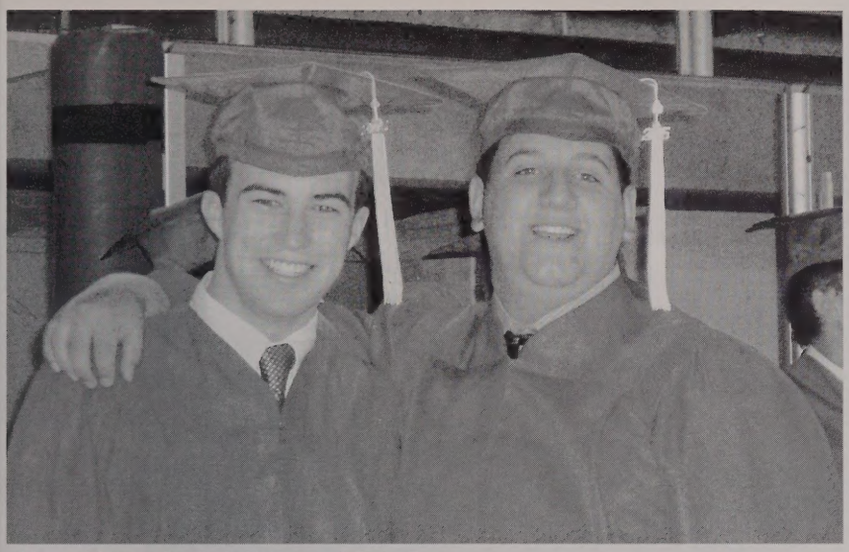
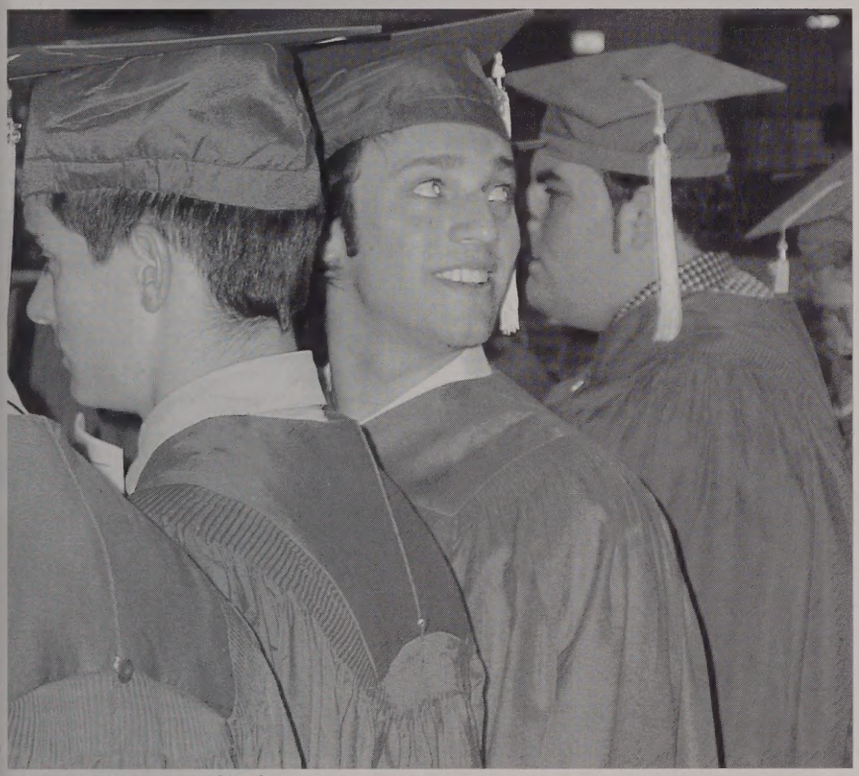
Graduates wait for their names to be called.

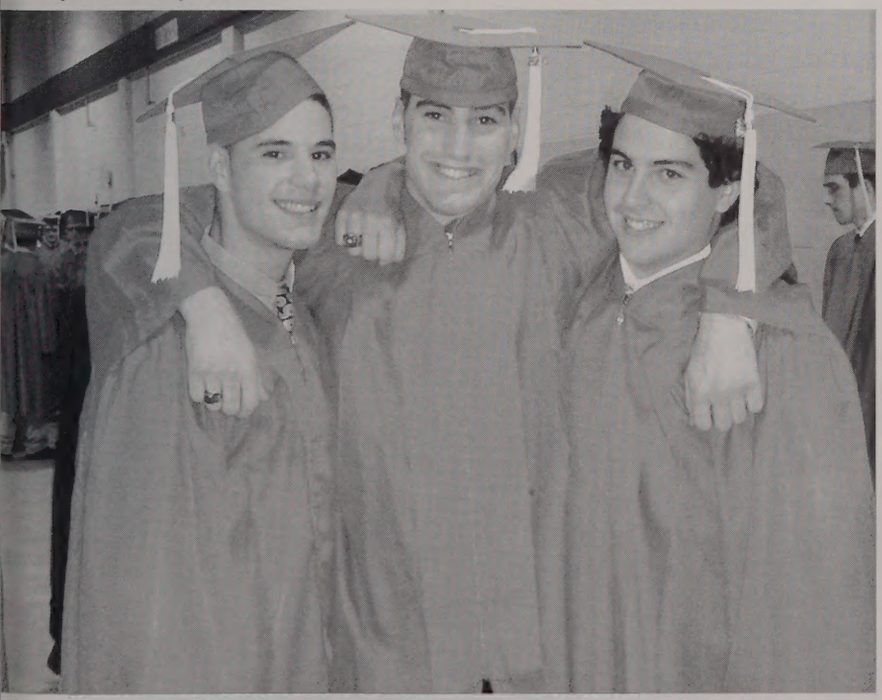
Line 'em up! Rob Young, Chris Young, Pat Yess, Steve "Wuuuuu", Rob Wiley, Mike Wholey, and Nick Tsamis



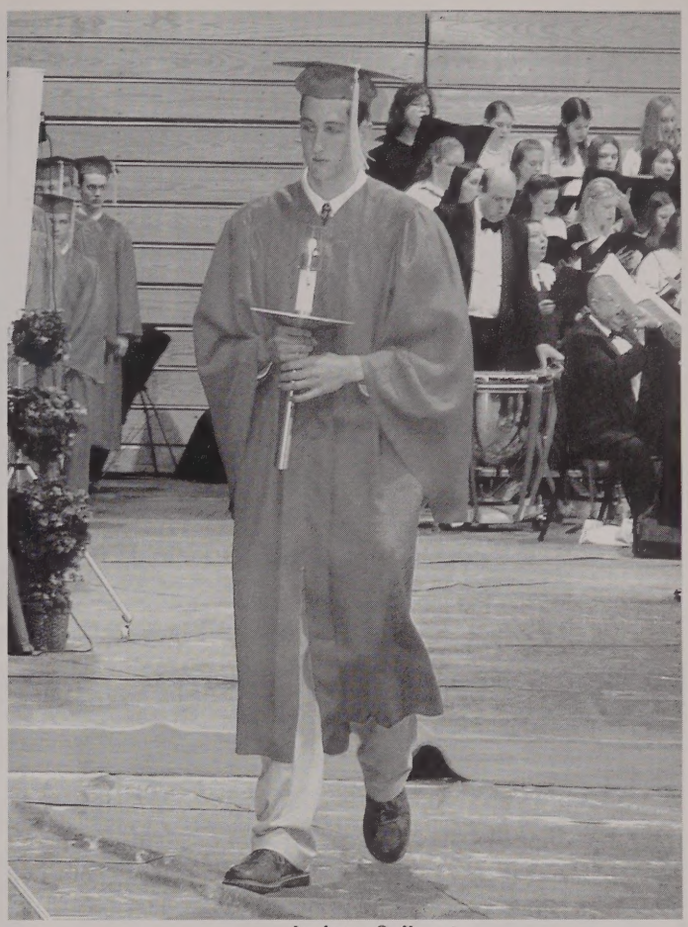
The odd couple, Rob Prior and Pete Rano.



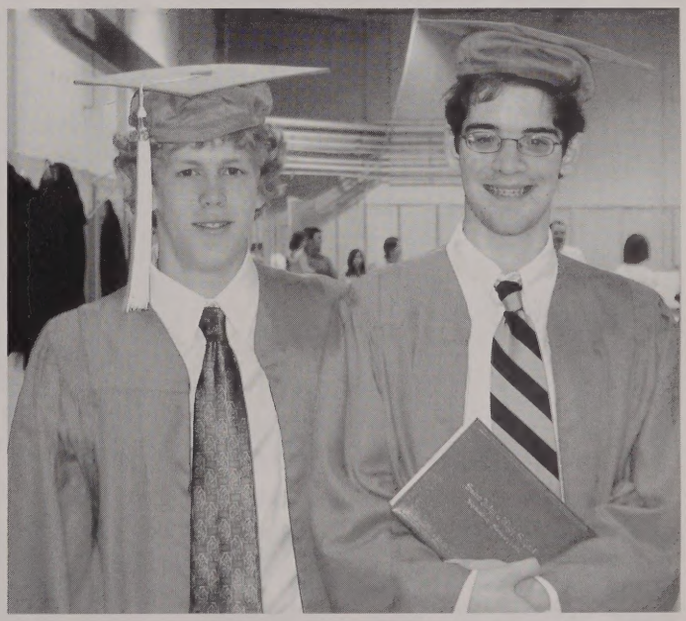
Ray Monroe spots his fans.



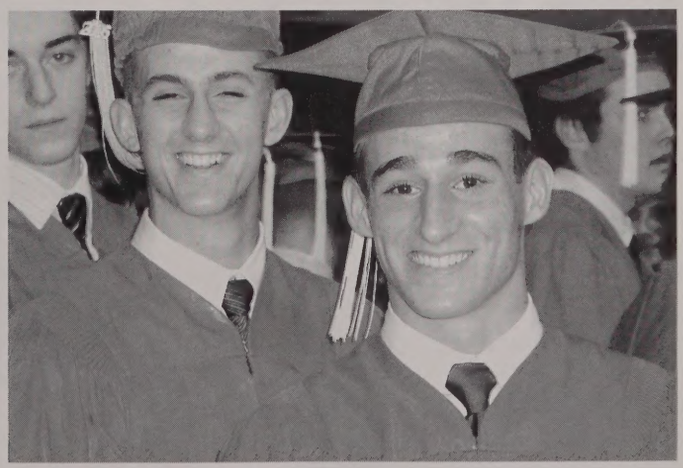
Corey Conserva, Chris Cote, and Jon Corey get ready to make their entrance.



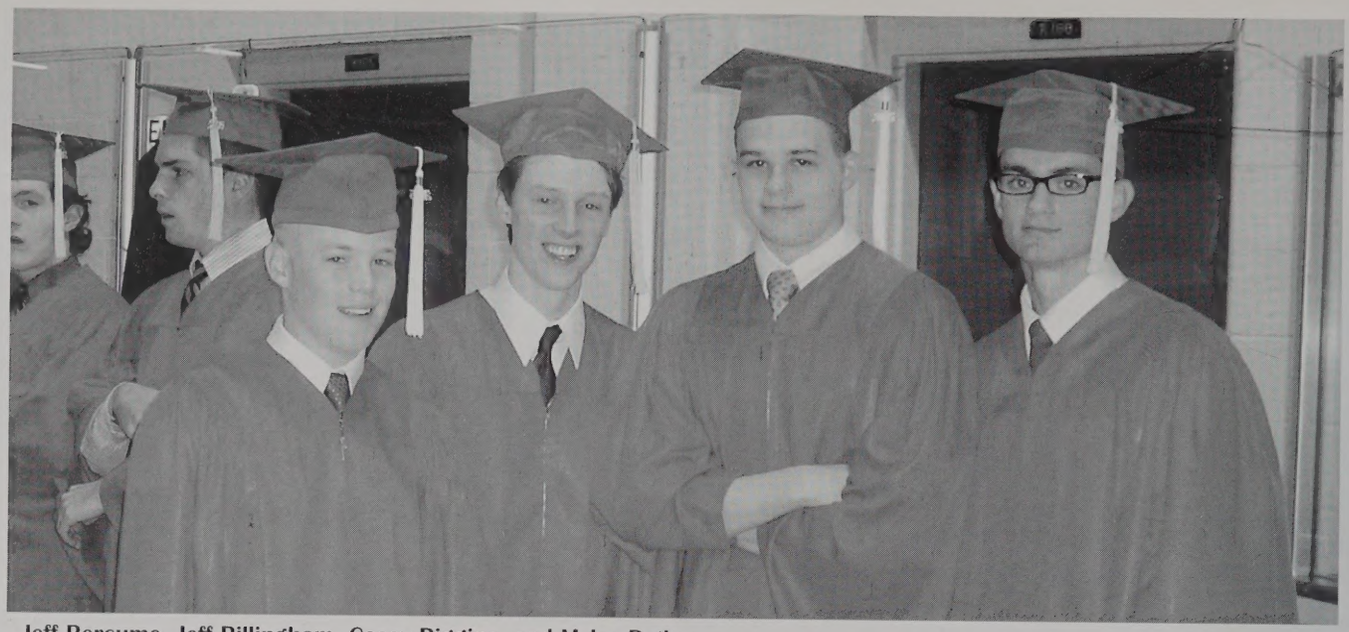
Andrew Soliperto



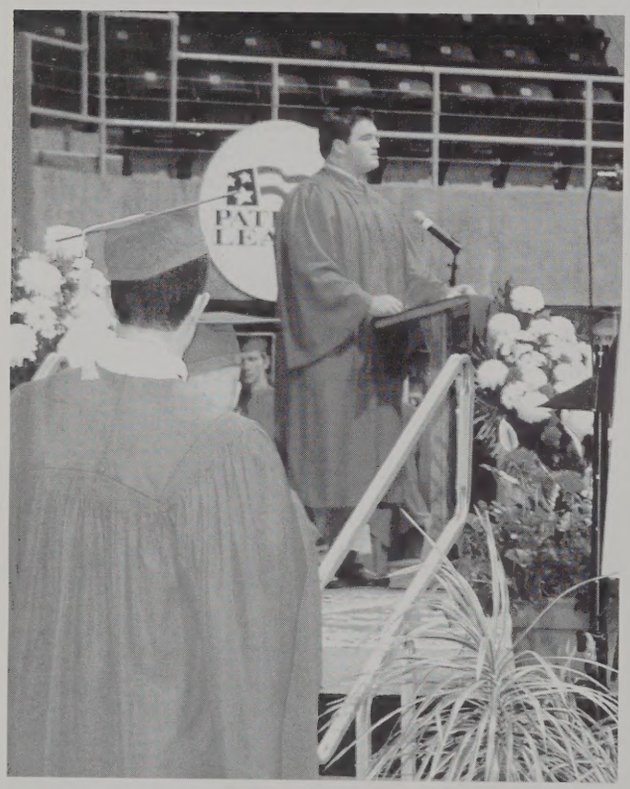
Matt Sanko and Joe Shortsleeve



Pete and Mike Lauring



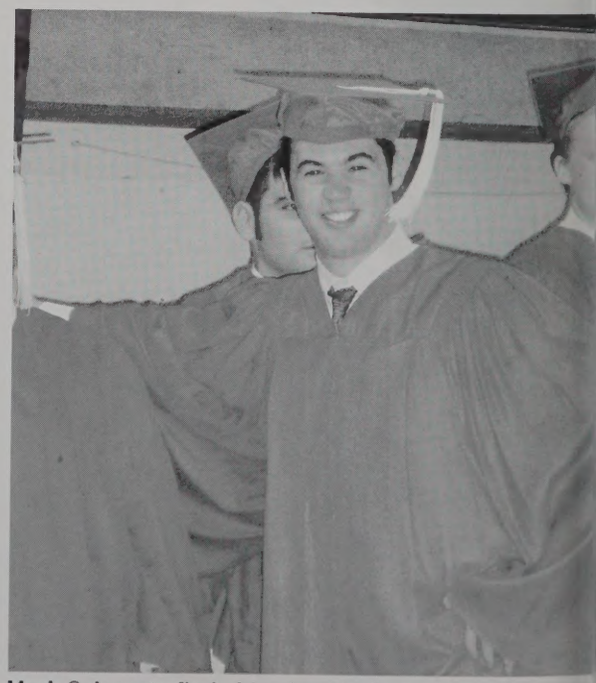
Jeff Bercume, Jeff Billingham, Casey Biggins, and Myles Betley



James McGillicuddy welcomes the crowd.

Joe Vallee, Andrew Tsitsilianos, Nick Tsamis look cool, calm and collected before the ceremony.

Adam Matson and his brother '09 bring up the gifts.



Mark Soloperto finds his place in line.
